CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have paregoric or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a few drops too many will produce the sleep from which there is no waking. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody, without labeling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without your or your physician's knowledge of what it is composed. Castoria does not contain narcotics.

The signature of Dr. J. C. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria.
Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"I have frequently prescribed Castoria for common ailments of children with good results."
W. A. CRANDALL, M. D.,
Buffalo, N. Y.

"As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine and, aside from my own family experience, I have, in my years of practice, found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every case."
Wm. J. McMANUS, M. D.,
Omaha, Neb.

"I find your Castoria is very beneficial in the treatment of children's ailments."
F. DAVIS, M. D.,
Chicago, Ill.

"I object to what are called patent medicines, where maker alone knows what stuff is put in them, but I know the formula of your Castoria and advise its use in proper cases. I judge it to be a very useful, as well as harmless family medicine."
N. B. SIZER, M. D.,
Brooklyn, N. Y.

NEWS AND NOTES FROM BUSY MAUI

Lahaina Ice Company Plans Electric Plant — Old Capital of Islands Fast Developing — Showers in the Kula District Fail to Break Drought.

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]

WAILUKU, July 19.—For some months past the Lahaina Ice Company has been quietly working on elaborate plans for an electric plant in connection with its ice industry. The plans are well along now. W. A. Gill, formerly of the faculty of the Kamahameha Schools, is at the head of the new electric project. He was present the first of July in Wailuku, when the new plant on this side of the island was first operated. At that time he mentioned the work he had already done to a few of his interested friends. The electric plant will be stationed on the bluff beyond the road leading up to Lahaina. The power generated will be used both for lighting purposes and for running of machinery. In connection with the work of the new company it is expected that a theater will be erected, and that the best motion pictures obtainable will be run on the screen—all under the management of the new project.

There is talk of running all the street conduits underground. The initial expense will be more, but after the work is once done, the upkeep will be less than on the overhead system.

Electrical construction work will also be a feature of the new Lahaina enterprise.

It is a matter of congratulation that the old capital of the Islands is now coming into her rights. She is beautifully located, is much visited by those who formerly lived there and by tourists. The step in progress will mean much for the ancient town as well as for the island of Maui.

The new enterprise is well backed in Mr. Gill, who is well known as a leading electrician. He is no expert in this line, and although a young man has certainly made good in his profession.

Shows Are Too Light.
The light showers in Kula have done comparatively little good. The old inhabitants of that region say that this year's drought is the worst in twenty-three years, and that were it not for the help that the Kula pipe line is giving the people and the cattle, every man and beast would have to move out of the locality or die. The blessings that the pipe line give can well be appreciated at such a time. Many farmers have lost all their crops. Corn is said to be $2 a bushel in Kula. This means an almost unheard of price on other portions of Maui for Kula corn.

CLOCK AT VIEIRA'S TELLS TIME IN ANY COUNTRY

Displayed in the Hotel Street window of Vieira & Co. the jeweler, is a clock which tells the time in any part of the world; the light or dark numerals showing whether it is night or day. August Caesar, formerly an employee at Vieira's, invented the clock, and much of the mechanical work in manufacturing this timepiece was done in the Vieira factory. The mechanism of the clock is on the inside of a large globe on which is outlined the meridians. By following the line indicating the meridian from any point in the world to the numerals on top of the globe, the time for that point is ascertained.

SCUTTLING SHIPS IS NOT LOST ART

Many Cases of Late Years Call for the Strictest of Legislation

In old days the crime of scuttling a ship for the purpose of swindling marine underwriters was punishable by death, and Captain Codling, of the brig Adventure, which he coolly sank off Brighton Beach on a calm, sunny day, is only one of many who were brought to justice and hanged for dastardly work of this kind.

It might be supposed that in these days of submarine cables and wireless communications the scuttler was extinct, but the contrary is proved by the recent case of a certain Welsh steamer which appears to have been overinsured and deliberately sunk.

The fact is that, so far from ship-scuttling being an extinct offense, there have been so many cases of the kind during the past few years as to render special legislation necessary, and last year a bill was introduced into Parliament by the president of the board of trade "to prohibit gambling on loss by maritime perils."

The bill had nothing to do with legitimate insurance, but sought to prevent a person without an insurable interest in a ship from effecting a policy upon her. As Mr. Churchill pointed out, such an individual had nothing to gain by the safe arrival of the vessel in question, but could profit only by her loss. Therefore he naturally desired her loss, and it was certain that in some cases members of crews had been bribed to effect such losses.

The special case which began the agitation for the abolition of these gambling policies occurred in August, 1907, when a large Cardiff steamer foundered during perfectly fair weather in the Grecian archipelago.

At the inquiry it was stated that the ship was worth £12,000 only afloat, but £24,000 at the bottom of the sea. The court found that her captain showed no desire to save his vessel, but abandoned her permanently. His certificate was suspended for 18 months and the judgment was ordered to be sent to the public prosecutor.

The annals of Lloyds are full of cases of swindlers or attempted swindlers. In one case a ship which was supposed to have on board a cargo of valuable copper ore and which was insured as such, went down some 12 miles from our Southern coast. Possibly by some miscalculation on the part of her scuttlers the depth in which she was sunk was only some 18 fathoms. Lloyds set divers to work, and found that the valuable "ore" consisted of bad metal. The owners' claim for heavy compensation was hastily withdrawn.

The case of a certain bark was another in which the swindlers badly overrated themselves. The skipper, who was part owner, loaded his ship with a cargo of entirely valueless timber and sailed away. Arrived at a convenient distance from land he gave his crew a keg of rum, and as soon as they were all hopelessly intoxicated proceeded to bore holes in the bottom of his ship.

The wretched crew awoke to find their ship half full of water, and though they worked hard at the pumps, were soon forced to take to the boats. The waves were breaking over her deck as they rowed away, and the captain, no doubt, congratulated himself upon the success of his rascally plot. But imagine his dismay when, within 24 hours of reaching land, a steamer arrived with the bark in tow! Her cargo of worthless timber had kept her afloat.

As soon as she was docked no fewer than fifteen holes were found in her bottom, and the natural result was that her skipper was promptly arrested and brought to justice.

One result of this form of crime is that the premium charged by the underwriters varies, not so much according to the seaworthiness of a vessel as in regard to the reputation enjoyed by her owners.

An Atlantic liner belonging to one of the great firms can be insured for a whole 12 months for 4 or 5 guineas per cent, while a tramp steamer may have to pay double these rates.

REPUBLICANS OF MAUI BEGINNING ACTIVITY

The "Weekly Times" has an interesting piece of political news from Maui.

"The 12th Republican precinct held their first meeting at Hamakua last Friday and nominated the following officers to serve for the ensuing term of two years: H. A. Baldwin, president; P. N. Kahokuolu, vice-president; A. W. Collins, secretary; K. Cross, treasurer.

"Executive Committee: D. C. Lindsay, H. P. Robinson, W. G. Scott, Joe Mitchell and W. H. Rice. Judges of Election: W. Nichol, Wm. Kapahu.

"Mr. Dupont, the former vice-president presided over the meeting, but declined to accept any office for this term, even that of treasurer, the only officer that gets a look in at the wherewithal that is needed for stationery and other incidentals. The stationery was particularly conspicuous by its absence on Friday, as the secretary did not show up; consequently Mr. Collins was elected secretary and started on a hunt for paper and pencils which were secured after disturbing the peaceful slumbers of the little village within the radius of a mile."
